INTRODUCTION

You'll soon be making some important decisions about what your next steps will be once you finish Year 11. There are lots of education and training options to choose from across Lancashire, such as school sixth forms, further education colleges and apprenticeships, and this document is designed to provide you and your parents/carers with information about each of these. By showing what each institution can offer, this should help to support the decisions you're making about your future.

For information on school sixth forms and colleges not included within this document, such as those located outside of Lancashire, we would advise you to contact them directly or look on their websites and social media pages for information, advice and support.

For information on any apprenticeship providers not included within the supporting apprenticeship document, we would advise you to contact them directly or look on their websites and social media pages for information, advice and support. Alternatively, you can contact the Lancashire Work Based Learning Forum at info@lancsforum.co.uk and they will be happy to assist wherever possible.

School sixth forms, colleges and apprenticeship providers are here to support all you in making the right decisions for your future. Please contact them directly if you have any questions or queries.

YOUR CHOICES AFTER YEAR 11

Young people have to stay in education or training until their 18th birthday. There are three main ways to do this:

- Continue to study full time
- Get an apprenticeship
- Work or volunteer whilst studying part time

There are lots of post 16 education or training options available in Lancashire and the surrounding area. You'll need to think about which one best suits your needs, interests and future plans. This education and training is free if you start before you turn 18.

Study full time

If you want to study full time, there are two main options: a school sixth form or a college. Information on the school sixth forms and colleges within Lancashire, as well as the colleges in Blackpool and Blackburn with Darwen, are included in this document. However, an education provider located outside Lancashire might be a better choice for you - they might be closest to your home or offer the right course for you. You can choose to go to a provider in Lancashire or one outside the county.

You will be able to choose from a wide range of qualifications and courses and these tend to be classed as academic or vocational/technical.

- A levels - these are two year courses with an exam at the end. These courses are at Level 3. Most students take three A level subjects but you may be able to combine A Levels with another qualification. You would need to speak to your preferred school sixth form or college to see what they can offer. A Levels are one of the main routes into higher education.
 - International Baccalaureate (IB) programme - there are six subject groups to choose from, including Language and Literature and Mathematics. Not all school sixth forms or colleges offer the IB Programme so you'll need to check with your preferred provider. The IB Programme is studied over two years and is a good route into higher education.
 - Vocational/technical – these courses are designed to help you learn in a more practical way about an employment sector, such as travel and tourism or construction. Vocational/technical courses are jointly designed with industry and employers so you can gain the right knowledge and skills to help you progress into a job. Whilst the main progression route from vocational/technical qualifications is into employment, you can also progress into higher levels of study, including university.

The main vocational/technical qualifications are T Levels. These are two year courses and are at Level 3. A T Level is the equivalent to three A Levels. T Level students spend 80% of their course in technical learning and 20% in an in-depth industry placement, which is around 45 days (315 hours). The industry placement will give you a real experience of working in your chosen industry. You'll also study English and maths if you have not yet achieved at least a GCSE grade 4 in these subjects. They are jointly designed with professional bodies and employers and are available in a range of different job sectors. There are lots of T Levels available across Lancashire. T Levels are assessed in different ways – including projects, tests and exams – and they allow you to progress onto an apprenticeship, skilled employment or higher education.

If you aren't quite ready for a T Level, you may be able to do the Level 2 Foundation Year. This is designed to give you the skills and knowledge to progress onto a T Level in the future.

Get an Apprenticeship

There are lots of education and training providers in Lancashire offering apprenticeships, often specialising in specific industries or sectors.

An apprenticeship is an excellent way to combine on the job learning while you're working and earning a wage. You'll get hands on practical learning through your employer and you'll also go into college or to your training provider one day a week to learn the theory behind your chosen subject area. Apprenticeships are available in a wide range of subjects and they last for at least 12 months. You can start at Level 2 and progress all the way up to Level 7.

As an apprentice, you'll be an employee and will receive a wage and other employee rights, such as holiday pay. Apprentices receive different rates of pay, depending on their age and where they are up to in their apprenticeships. A 16-18 year old apprentice is entitled to the National Minimum Wage. You can search for an apprenticeship here: Find an apprenticeship.

Work or volunteer whilst studying part time

If you'd prefer to work, or be your own boss, you are required to study a part time course alongside this. You'll need to work for at least 20 hours a week, while you are in part time education. This is the same for volunteering.

Volunteering is a rewarding activity and can help you to make a difference within your community. It's a great way to gain experience and develop new skills. You can find out more about volunteering opportunities in Lancashire on the Lancashire Volunteer Partnership website.

Making your choice

There are lots of options to choose from and this may be confusing. Before you make your decision, think about:

- The subjects you like
- Your interests and future goals
- The type of learning and assessments/tests you like
- Whether you want to go to university or get a job
- The grades you need for the course you want to do
- Which qualification would suit you best – you can try this quiz on the UCAS website to find out

These are some things to think about when you are deciding what to do. There are no right or wrong answers really. Think about what interests you, what subjects you enjoy at school and what job you'd like to do. Be aspirational and stretch yourself, you never know what your future may hold. You may change your mind about what you want to do when you leave school and that is fine – in fact, that's normal!! If you are aware of all the options available to you, you can make an informed decision.

There are lots of other things you and your family can do to help you decide, such as:

- Visit schools, colleges and training providers to see what they offer
- Look at their websites and read their prospectus/brochures
- Go to taster sessions and open events
- Read their Ofsted inspection report
- Think about how you will get there and if you can get any help towards the cost of travel. The local authority's post 16 transport policy statement can be accessed here

These resources might also help you find out more information about your options, different career options and the types of providers and courses available across Lancashire:

- Education, employment and training - Lancashire County Council
 - Sorted | Lancashire Work Based Learning \(lancsforum.co.uk\)
 - Portal – Lancashire Careers Information – Lancashire Careers Hub
 - Get the Jump: explore your education and training choices | National Careers Service

You should also speak to the careers lead at your school, who will be able to give you some advice and guidance on what you could do when you leave school.

If you don't the GCSE grades you were hoping for, there are still options available to you. Lots of providers have vocational courses at Entry Level and Level 1 so it is worth contacting them to talk about the programmes which may be right for you.

YOUTH FUTURES TEAM

If you want to speak to someone outside of your school, you can contact the Youth Futures Team at Lancashire County Council and they will talk to you about your options and what you might want to do in the future. In addition to the education and training providers set out in this document, the Youth Futures Team know about lots of other providers and alternative kinds of provision you might be interested in, such as the King's Trust or provision within your local community. You can email them at youthfutures@lancashire.gov.uk.

If you have any comments or feedback on this document, please email post16participation@lancashire.gov.uk.

Lancaster and Morecambe College

How do I apply for an apprenticeship?	Apprenticeships differ from full-time courses as you will spend a minimum of 30 hours per week in the workplace, whilst you complete your apprenticeship qualification. That means you need to be interviewed for both a job AND the apprenticeship course you have chosen. The college encourages all prospective apprentices to contact local businesses within the sector they want to work in, to ask about potential job vacancies. If you can't find a suitable apprenticeship, their Employer Engagement team will try to support you to find an employer through their Apprentice Matching service. All the college's apprenticeship courses are listed in their prospectus and full details are available on their website. If you already have an employer: apply on-line for the relevant apprenticeship course via pink APPLY link on each course page. The college team will then contact your employer and you will be invited to an interview with the relevant Training Coordinator. If you don't yet have an employer: have a look at the current apprenticeships vacancies on the college's website. If you find a job you think would suit you, you can apply for it, and the team will set up an interview with the employer. If you aren't able to find a suitable placement, you should still apply for the apprenticeship course you are interested in, and you will be added to the college's Apprentice Matching list. Not all vacancies are listed on the website, so their Employer Engagement team may be able to support you to try and the right role. If you have any questions about apprenticeships at the college or need some advice about which course is right for you, you can contact their Employer Engagement team on 01524 521483 or email employerengagement@lmc.ac.uk.
What happens after I have applied?	As part of the application process, you will be invited to select a date and time for your interview. If you don't select this, the Admissions Team will be in touch to arrange your interview. These interviews are very informal and give you the opportunity to meet with the training coordinator and find out more about the apprenticeship. Parents and carers are welcome to attend interviews and the college support teams are always on hand to answer any questions you may have about pastoral, learning or financial support. Most interviews take place in person, but in some instances, it may be possible to arrange interviews via telephone or MS Teams. Interviews with employers may be more formal, and you may be asked to explain why you have chosen a particular industry and why you want to work for that business.
What happens if I don't get on the apprenticeship I applied for?	There are lots of reasons why people aren't accepted onto an apprenticeship. Employers and training coordinators will assess if you are "work ready" and may suggest that you study a full-time course for a year to build up more practical experience before starting an apprenticeship. It may be that you don't have the entry requirements needed to progress onto the apprenticeship you have applied for. The college has lots of other options, including full-time courses and pathways, which may be more appropriate for you, and will give opportunity to build confidence and skills – as well achieve additional GCSE grades – to progress onto an apprenticeship upon completion.
What happens if I change my mind after I have applied?	If you change your mind, you just need to contact the Employer Engagement team to withdraw or transfer your application. There are plenty of full-time courses available, which may be a more suitable choice for you. The college's friendly careers team are also available to help you look at other options and can be contacted by email at advice@lmc.ac.uk.

What if I don't get the grades I am expecting?	The first thing to know is – don't panic! If you don't achieve the required grades for your apprenticeship there will other options available, but you do need to let the college know as soon as possible. The college holds a big event on campus every GCSE results day and they support lots of young people to find a suitable course.
What if I don't have an up to date CV or I don't feel ready for to be interviewed?	The college holds CV workshops and Apprenticeship Preparation days throughout the year, so if you need some support with interview techniques, confidence building or CV writing, their friendly Apprentice Progress Coaches will be able to help.
What if I haven't decided what I want to do?	The college's friendly careers team are always on hand to help you look at all the options available for post-16 education. You can book an appointment by emailing advice@lmc.ac.uk. You can come along to one their Open Evenings (in December, February, April and July) and they also have a dedicated Apprenticeship event on Tuesday, 11th February (4.30pm – 7pm) which will include a wide range of local and regional employers.

Westinghouse Springfield Fuels Ltd

How do I apply for an apprenticeship?	To find out about the apprenticeships on offer at Westinghouse, as well as their application link, please visit: Apprenticeships. Please note that they don't accept emails with CVs attached as they have a specific recruitment process.
What happens after I have applied?	Westinghouse offer online applications initially, where you will fill out an online form for your chosen apprenticeship. As long as you have the predicted/achieved minimum grade requirements, you'll then be invited to participate in online aptitude testing. Following a successful pass, you'll be interviewed at Springfields by members of the apprentice training department.
What happens if I don't get on the apprenticeship I applied for?	Not being successful for an apprenticeship can be disheartening, but do not let this discourage you from continuing with apprenticeships. Constructive feedback on areas that can be developed is beneficial. Don't be afraid to re-apply the following year to the same employer, you'll be more confident and an additional year of experience in the industry you're focusing on will help.
What happens if I change my mind after I have applied?	Let the training provider/employer know as soon as you have made your decision. They may be able to offer further information that will help with the decision. However if you're certain, they will be able to offer another young person the opportunity.

However, sometimes things don't always go to plan and if you don't meet the minimum expected grades, then please speak to your training provider who will be able to offer further guidance.
What if I don't have an up to date CV or I don't feel ready for to be interviewed?	To really capture an employer's attention, a concise CV is key. Even if you don't have much employment history, feel free to write in detail about interests, aspirations and personal interests. Have a go at writing a CV and ask someone you trust to review it. If you're worried about the written words then make it factual and succinct. Many schools, colleges and some local employers will provide mock interviews to help build your confidence. Never be afraid to ask for a minute or two thinking time, an employer will appreciate this more than a rushed answer! The most important thing is to be yourself! Employers will always take nerves into account, especially if it is your first interview. Always have a couple of pre-prepared questions to ask the interview panel and have a notebook to write down their answers.
What if I haven't decided what I want to do?	Work experience is invaluable. If you can demonstrate on your CV or covering letter that you're passionate about both your career prospects and personal interests, this will demonstrate to employers that you're a well-rounded individual that has transferrable skills in the workplace. Not only does work experience benefit your CV, it will also allow you to refine your interests – it will show you what you would like to do, as well as identifying paths you would least like to follow. Make the most of career events where you can speak to current apprentices to see how their chosen subjects helped them. If you're interested in a particular apprenticeship, make your subjects match this. Even if change your mind, you can still explore the possibility and there will always be career opportunities in apprenticeships
Key contact details and further information	Springfields are happy to chat through any questions you may have about the apprenticeship or what to expect from your time with them.
